It's About Time

Some traditions are made to be broken. This is especially true when changes spell improvement.

The changes began with the election of our superintendent, Mr. Eugene Sheets. Mr. Sheets has shown us that he is open for suggestions about anything and everything.

Several teachers became a part of our school this year. Among these were Mrs. Conner, Coach Kelshaw, and Mr. Berne. Mr. Slusser, another "new kid on the block," started a Drama Club and was also sponsor of a talent show, "Trojan Follies," which was a huge success.

Another addition to the school was the Key Club. Brought back by Coach Eubanks, this branch of the Kiwanis Club makes contributions to the upkeep of the community.

Students with birthdays were famous for a day as their names were announced over the intercom. As well as giving us juicy tidbits about our teachers, the announcements of Teacher of the Week gave selected faculty members special privileges.

One morning we arrived to see the parking lot scattered with yellow S's. These spaces were for Seniors only. Seniors had parking privileges for the first time ever!

Even homecoming was different this year. A dance in the lunchroom, sponsored by the Cheerleaders and Golden Girls, gave students a chance to meet and socialize as well as dance.

As each six weeks rolled around, special students received success cards for outstanding achievements. These Trojans were honored with a party at the end of each six weeks.

What do students think about all this? "It's about time!"

Over the summer, Mrs. Duke organized a fifteen day tour of Europe. Chris Rader, Gary Harrison, and Daphne Walker pose with chaperones in front of the Eiffel Tower.

Where are you Angie and Stacey? The Homecoming dance is in the lunchroom!

Kate McCall cringes in fear as Jason Ward prepares to chop off her hand during the "Trojan Follies." Debbie Robillard is glad she is not in Kate's shoes.

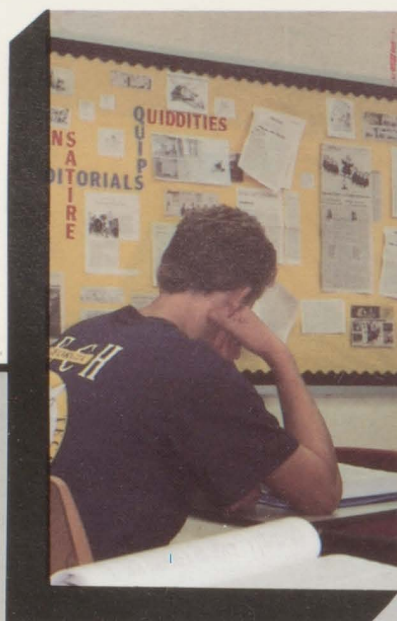

Just in Time!

Just in time for a ride home.

Cuttin' it Close . . .

The bell rings,
The race begins,
Getting to class is an impossible task.
Dash to my locker,
Dodging the masses,
If I don't hurry I'm sure to miss my classes.
Reaching my locker, the lock is stuck,
Only I could have such luck!
Well, I've got the lock open,
but look at the mess!
Where's my homework?
I just remembered,
I've got a test.
I've got to use the bathroom,

Ben Sanders remembers his test "just in time."

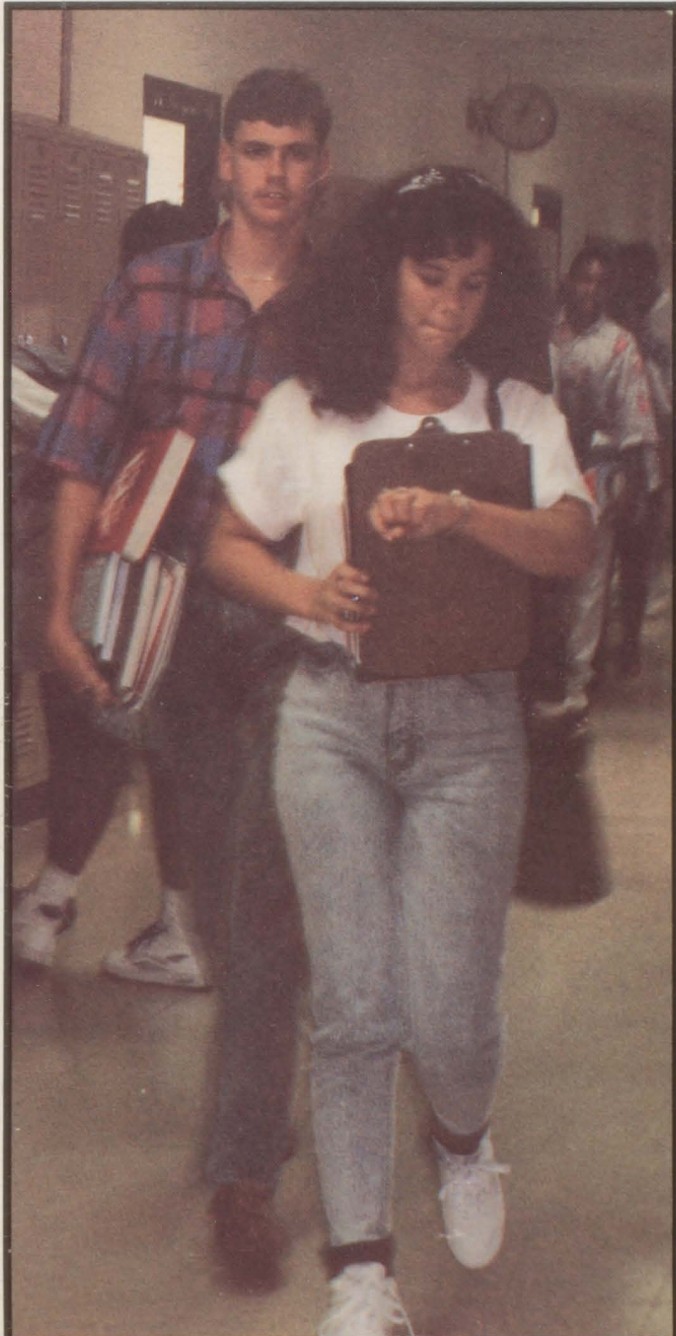

If I have time
But, oh no, Rrrring!
Well off to Mr. Carter or Mr. Terhune,
Finding an administrator is impossible, too.
After begging Mrs. Mapel, she gave me a pass,
And after all the trouble I've made it to class.

Amanda Swift jumps in just in time for a picture with Brian Smisson, Heather Holly, and Angie Queen.

Third quarter is a great time for a snack.

Some students make time to study before the tardy bell.

Crystal Bryant cut it too close. She's late for class.

Nicole Dent and Chris Pyles are wondering how close they're "cuttin' it."

Time Out for a Game

The football games offer something different for each person who comes. It's time for the players and the band to shine. For the fans, it's time to cheer.

Trojan fans arrive from all over, each for a different reason. Some come to watch the game. These are the truly dedicated fans who show up "rain or shine." Others like to socialize. Whatever the reason, the stands are always packed!

Brian Shelley and Carey Hilburn go for a drink during 3rd quarter.

Touch Down!!!

Coach Hughley gives a pep talk to the defense.

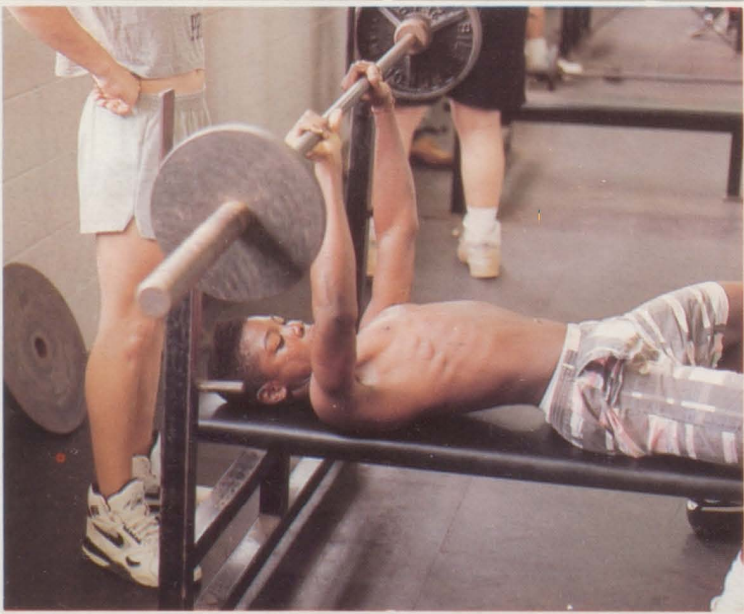

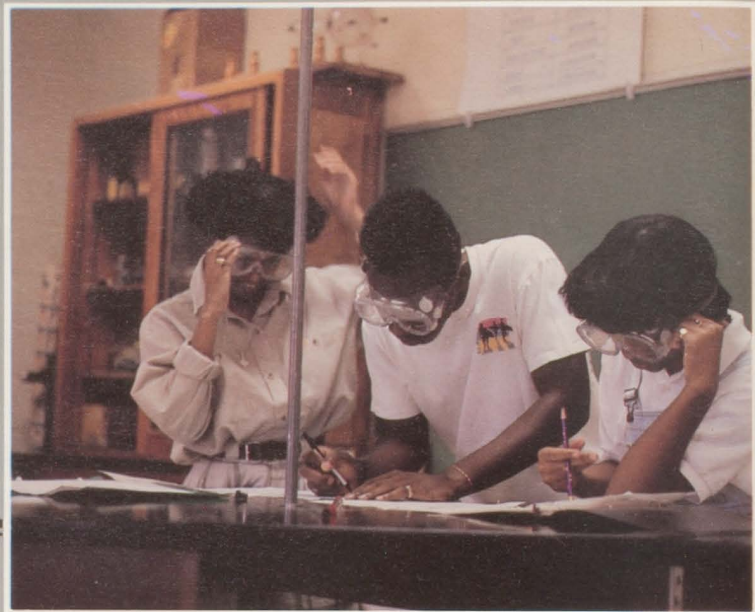

Brian Harrelson, Audrey McBride, and Dawn Tabor head for the concession stand.

Like the sunset, the game was spectacular.

Time for work . . .

Most of the day is filled with classwork, busy work, lab work, lunch, and more work. In the midst of the long six hours of labor, we often find time to cut up or relax. Some days we cannot find enough time to do this, but we always wait for those days when we can.

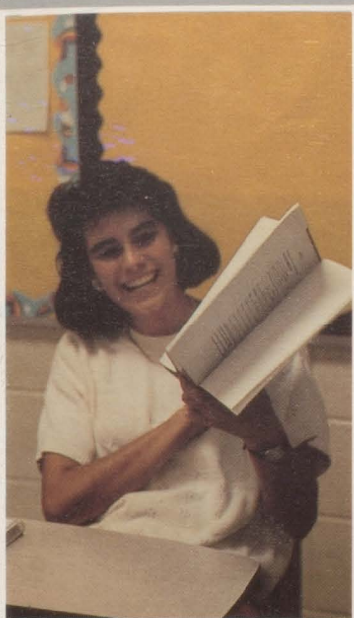

Mamar Gelaye, Melvin Walker, and LaTisha Fluellen are hard at work preparing their lab manuals for Mr. Barrett's inspection (and grading!).

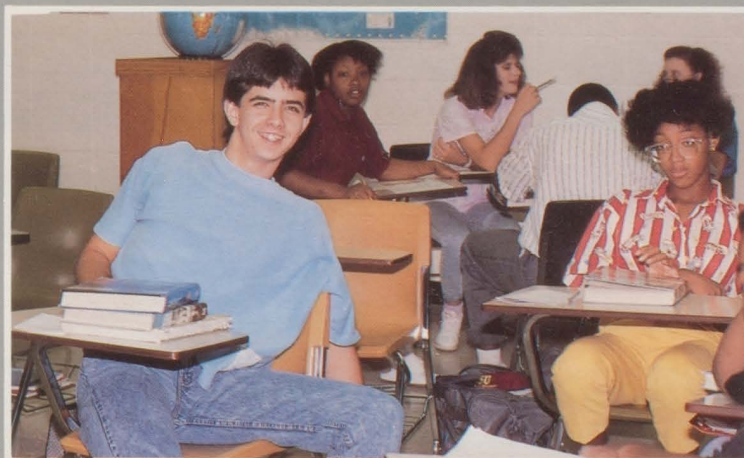

Wade Jackson pulls a lot of weight around the gym.

Time for play . . .

"Well, at least it is covered!" laughs Kathryn Rackley as she holds up her book for the class to inspect.

"It's time for the bell isn't it?" Justin Stout is ready to speed from Mrs. Gatliff's room as soon as the 3:00 bell rings.

Hope Wingo eagerly anticipates the next words of her Biology lecture.

"More pizza please," is Eric Newton's thought as he, Jeffery Peterson, and Montay Jefferson ready themselves to "chow down" at Pizza Hut during the Annual Latin Club Party.

Who says real men don't like pink? —
Jay Sheffield's best-looking auto.

Drive Me Crazy

Around 8:20 A.M. each school morning, last minute drivers storm the parking lot and make a mad dash for homeroom. Dream cars rest beside "bombs" in the large parking lot reserved for students and guarded by trusty Mr. Towns.

Whether a student's car is brand-new or barely hanging on, almost everyone's car is noticed. Asked to choose the car in the parking lot they think best-looking, students picked Jay Sheffield's pink Mazda truck. Pink proved a little too much for some; Jay's new wave truck also had several votes for worst-looking! Yet, when the ballots were in, Tracy Penson's blue Chevette received the title of "Ugliest Car."

The newest edition to school parking area, bright yellow S's in the first 100 parking spots, reserves choice parking for seniors. This change is received with mostly positive reactions; especially from seniors. Senior LuAnn Lee says, "It's great. We deserve it because we're the best." "We've been here the longest. We've earned it," David Sams adds. Though some underclassmen complain about the inconvenience to them, others say they do not mind the Senior privilege. Ben Butler reasons, "It's o.k. with me since we'll have the best spots when we're Seniors."

Like most good things, students have some complaints about the parking lot. One common frustration is the 10 miles per hour speed limit. Although this regulation promotes safety for the students, many do not stick to the rule. Explains Deborah Ahlvin, "It's hard to drive that slow in a three-speed!"

Avoiding parking regulations involves "getting down and dirty" for some students. On mornings when students want to sit out in their cars for just a few more minutes, Mr. Towns patrols to catch them and send them to class. Matt Perry and Ryan Golphin lie down in the seats of their vehicles to avoid Mr. Towns, but Brian Blando takes no chances. He says he lies down in the floor of his car to keep from being caught.

Whether or not everyone agrees with all the policies attached, the school parking lot is a convenience students with driver's licenses could not do without. With the addition of Senior Parking, it steadily improves.

Some are not fortunate enough to drive a car
(a.k.a. freshmen and sophomores).

"S marks the spot!"

Don't laugh, at least it's paid for! — Tracy Penson's worst-looking bomb.

Brandon Smith gets his first taste of "real" school food.

Jacques Ezell, Jeffery Ellison, Veronda Mathis, and Tim Randall take time to socialize.

Even Mr. Spearman won't eat the food.

Dawn Glover prefers to spend lunch time in the library.

Chris Rader, a senior, is smart enough to bring his own lunch.

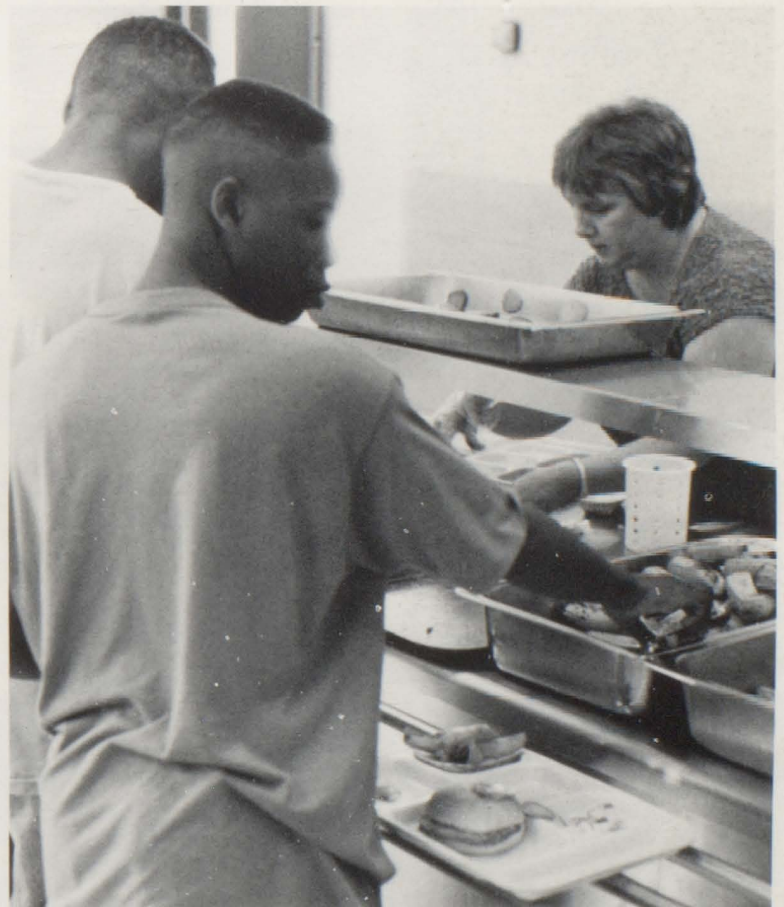

Break Time!

For many the lunch bell doesn't necessarily mean lunch, it means break. Not being able to recognize the food deters many people from eating in the lunchroom. Others get tired of the same weekly menu year in and year out.

Some students use lunch strictly as a chance to get outside and socialize. Many use this time to cram for that afternoon Algebra test. Whatever its use, thirty minutes is never enough.

Tony Rice obviously hasn't learned!

Teachers, on your mark! Students, get set! Go! It's time for Class!

After all the waiting, the bell ending first period rings. But, then you had to start all over again as you anticipated the bell to end second period. Oh, well! That's life!

top right: Mr. Towns and Mrs. Pearson prepare to rush to their respective positions.

below: Christie Cochran does not kid around! If looks could kill, we would all be dead.

Mrs. Maple, Mrs. Bailey, and Mrs. Clark constantly took time out of their busy schedules to help the Retrospect Staff. Thanks for all the support!

Auto Break-in at PCHS

When the Trojan Football Team and PCHS Band returned from the November 10 game, what they found was not a welcoming sight. During the night someone had smashed windows on 14 automobiles belonging to members of the team, band, and one coach. Some of the cars were behind the Band Room and others were behind the gym. The chain-link fence behind the gym had been cut to allow access to the football players' cars.

A variety of stereos, speakers, tapes, and radar detectors, as well as a sum of cash were taken. Including the smashed windows and stolen items, the damage amounted to over $6,000.

Randy Pitt's Mustang was a smash.

Gary Harrison and Thomas Orr

The pupil with the highest SAT score is chosen each year from the Senior class as the Star Student. This year our Star was Gary Harrison. Gary plans to attend Mercer University and major in either architecture or law.

The Star Student was allowed to choose the Star Teacher. This is the teacher who the student felt had the most impact on him during his high school years. Gary chose Mr. Thomas Orr as the Star Teacher. Mr. Orr has taught Gifted English and Gifted History at Peach County High for five years now. Mr. Orr was also the 1990 Retrospect Adviser.

Gary had Mr. Orr as his History teacher for all four of his high school years as well as for English. This year, as a member of the annual staff, Gary had Mr. Orr for a total of three classes. It is obvious that Mr. Orr and Gary had to be able to put up with each other a great deal. Maybe Mr. Orr was as ready for Gary's Senior year as Gary was.

If the Hat Fits, Wear It.

Although shoes are normally considered to fit a person's character, we have decided to use hats. (Or should we say helmets?) Teachers are often considered by their students to be "Public Enemy #1," but other (and who are we to change their minds?) teachers are thought to be best friends. From one extreme to another, we say to those who know their reputation, "If the hat fits, wear it!"

Mrs. Duke proudly displays her Trojan Helmet made by her homeroom during Homecoming Week.

There is Life after 3:00

The three o'clock bell is not only a signal of the end of the day for students. Three o'clock spelled relief for the teachers of PCHS. After a day of harassment and abuse from students, teachers were only too happy to see those beloved pupils running away from them and out the door.

Although students were allowed to leave at 3:00, the teachers were required to stay until 4:00 (a rule usually strictly enforced). Contrary to what many would believe, some teachers actually stayed past 4:00. (Yes, Teachers really stayed at school longer than they had to).

Created by Mrs. Kay Kicklighter, our first Exercise/Nutrition Program began in January for teachers at the high school and middle school. With about 25 members, the class met twice a week for 8 weeks. "The class is to teach the teachers about nutrition and exercise, and how they affect people," Mrs. Kicklighter explained. "Although the program began as a more or less weight loss/control class, we have some who joined to learn about nutrition and keep physically fit." Mrs. Kicklighter handled the nutrition part of the program herself, while she left the exercise portion up to Mrs. Debra Byrd.

Teachers could also be found at the school after school hours during times of extracurricular activities. Many went to simply enjoy a good, relaxing game of football or basketball. However, the majority went to the games because of the ominous TICKET DUTY! Of course, teachers cannot be caught on campus too late. There is no telling what our trusty Grover Towns might do.

Finally I can get some work done. — Mrs. White

They're GONE! — Mrs. Ward

And I thought I was all alone.
— Mrs. Jones

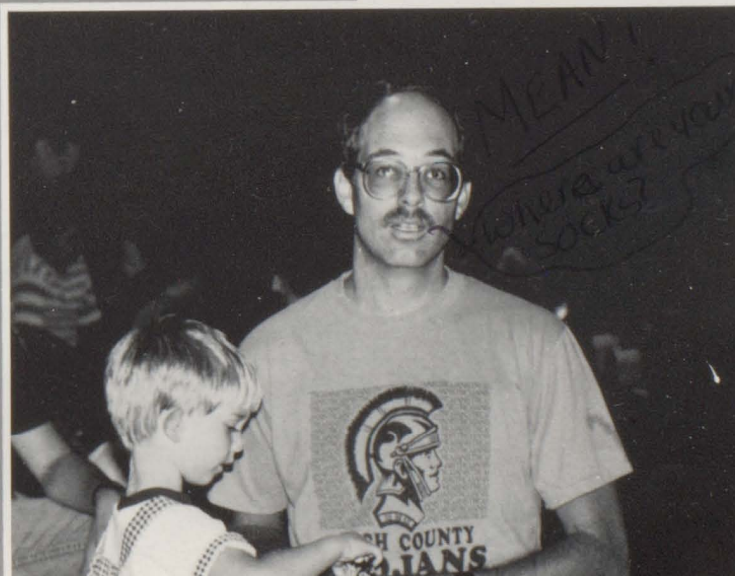

Mrs. Kicklighter finally gets some work done.

The Shorts and Longs of It!

Students are always looking for quick shortcuts to their next class. People have been seen going through windows, cutting across the grass, and going through fire doors (Shame, Shame!). Mr. Williard Carter is one administrator who catches students making these illegal moves. Here Mr. Carter explains to some students the evil of their ways.

I, GENA ABRAMS, being of sound mind and body do hereby leave the following: Jessica, I leave you all my love and hope that you continue to be a straight A student while you work towards graduation and stop being so mean, you are a lovely person; Angela the ability to stop being silly and find a cute boyfriend that doesn't think he owns you; Krisie a BIG THANX for allowing me to talk to you when I needed to talk; Bridgett, a gift certificate for Charter Lake because you're a pathological liar; Marsha, the ability to keep the "business" alive and continue making money for me; Sharon, a promise that I won't try to dunk your head down the toilet again; Tanya, to find a roommate as good as I; Tina, a driver's license so you can stop doin' your riding in the back seat; Isaac, the will to bug someone else; Tiffany, a prayer;

Natalie, to stay cool, keep a good sense of humor, and stay straight because you're aspiring to be the best, a Delta; Jacques, some colorful spring clothes; Mr. Bell, an eel skin leather jacket; Mr. Carter, a toupee; and the rest of the '90 class, good luck and best wishes because we'll probably never see each other again, it's the closing of a chapter in our book of life. Saving the best for last, to my parents, I leave all my heart because if it weren't for ya'll I wouldn't be the person I am today. Thanks for your love and support, I love you.

I, TAMMY ABSHER, being of sound mind and body, hereby leave Carol M. and Regina S., the greatest times we had, and hope there's many more. To my freshman friends, three more years, "good luck," (you will need it). To my brother Franklin, five more years (hang in there; you can make it). To Kim A., a license to drive (watch the 18 wheelers and the light poles); Emily M., M&M's with peanuts. To my favorite teachers, Mr. Berne, Mrs. Rumble, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Ferrell, and Mrs. Armstrong (I'm gonna miss ya'll); I leave Mrs. Rumble my tacky shoes. To Gina T., Carol M., and Amy L., the good times in Cosmetology. To Sam S., the private talks we shared in gym. Most important, to my parents, grandparents, thanks for keeping me in line. It paid off. I Love You!

I, DEXTER ADAMS, bequeath the following: To Grover Towns, the ability to one day find a real job and stay out of the student affairs at PCHS in the future; To Mrs. G. Clark, an everlasting friendship; To Keisha W. singing lessons; To Ato an alarm clock — maybe then you'll get to school on time; To Melissa and Shulonda, my hellos and good-byes; To Cureaka, a mind to memorize music; To Carlos A., to find her, "whoever she is?"; To the band, the ability to concentrate on how to get a 1: To Tina thoughts . . .; To mom, the ability to go on without me; And to those I forgot on purpose, the ability to find someone else to will you something.

I, DEBBIE AHLVIN, being of sound mind (I think) and tall body leave to all the underclassmen the moving up to bigger and better times. I leave

Deborah Ahlvin

Jason Allmon

live, and a porch to keep your junk. I also leave you a pair of socks and a white shirt for VICA meetings; To Terence David, I leave some other fool to drive you to college and from work and some decent eyesight to see turning cars (just Kidding); To ALL Juniors, I leave nothing; To Heather, I leave my thanks for having more patience with my car than I did, for staying calm when I got mad, and for making this year the best I have had; And to PCHS I leave a black mark on my way out.

I, KANDY ARRINGTON, being of not so sound mind and short body do hereby leave Angel the ability to resist sharp curves and holes in the road. To Stacy, I leave you a yellow taxi and an everlasting friendship. To LuAnn, I leave you the ability to open the bathroom door with the handle and not the hinge. I leave Amy the use of my car to keep all of your stuff in. Jenny thanks for letting me use your big white telephone to talk to Ralph when I needed to. Kelli, I leave you the ability to have enough self-control not to chase unknown people down in the parking lot. Mike, Matt, and Jason I leave you all the leftovers. Al don't ever forget to use the CHS. Chuck and Jay I leave you all the Waffle Houses in the world. To Regina, I leave all the collard greens and hamhocks you can eat.

Sheftall I leave you a supply of pencils and a Spanish dictionary. To Jeremy, I leave you in hopes that you will get a Geo Tracker to bring you to school next year. To the judges, may you not find anyone else to judge.

I, PENNY ARRINGTON, being of wandering mind and controlled body, leave to Brian W. a pair of lips to run, a pair of ears to listen, and a heart that cares — Thanks for your friendship; To Wade, the ability to make it through his Senior year by controlling his "urges"; To Carla Chitty and cousin Kandy, a long lasting friendship that will last forever; To Craig, Shannon, Robert, and Bill, a ride to Chubby's; To B.B., a once broken heart that has now mended; To Stacey, Samantha, and Yvonne, a brown bag lunch; To Tracey Brown, the memories of long hot summer days and those "wild" summer nights and a full tank of gas; To Jay, a "new" shade of pink; To Kelli, a sparkling smile that could blind anybody in the sunlight; To Deanne, I owe you one — Thanks for my guy! To Angel, the ability to stay out of the ditch and off the sidewalks; To Pam, Leslie, Missy, and Michelle, I leave my ticket to everywhere; To Wendy Lee, I wish you all the happiness that you can possibly handle, and to Holly Bone I leave my worn out Winger and Skidrow tapes! Last, but not at all least, to Mitch, I leave all the pain of a relationship behind me, I wouldn't have made it without your help — I LOVE YOU! — I can now look forward to a wonderful future.

Penny Arrington

I, JEFFERY BAILEY, being of no mind, no body, and no care, leave to my brother Jay, nothing, 'cause I'm taking you with me; to Dave, the ability for the Dart to make it to the Ratt concert; To Layne, my friendship forever and the hope to always be together. We've made it, dude! To Chuckie, all the thanks for being there for me, I won't forget you; To Jenni M., I leave the ability to solve all your problems without Amy W.; To Kelli, I leave wrestling lessons and a new horn; To Jill, Jan, Janet, the ability to put up with your boyfriends. Thanks for ya'lls friendship; To Mrs. Kicklighter, a restful stay in a nursing home after putting up with four years of wrestling matches in homeroom; And last, to June Grinnell, I leave my promise to always love you forever. You are a wonderful person and you mean the world to me. We've had good times and bad times, and we've stuck together through it all. The future is very bright for us and together we'll make it happen. I Love You. Infinity!

I, RICHARD BARNES, being of not so sound mind and a very stable body hereby leave: someone to take my place by helping out Mrs. Byas and being a librarian assistant at the same time; To the Rifles, the ability to always B2Gether; 2 Run and Timmy, the ability to stay together; To Juandolyn and Tim Randall, the best of friendships; To Oenia, Karla, and Cedric (Smiley), the ability to keep up the good work; To Verlandra my seat on the Band Bus #4; To my cousins Vanessa and Ricky, the mind to hang in there; To You, U,U, and you, the ability to graduate, because a mind is a terrible thing to waste; To the teachers the ability to teach more students like me.

To Layne, thanks for all your help, especially in geometry, and for making me laugh when I needed it. You're a good friend. To Jeffery B., even though you do give me a hard time every once in awhile, I could never stay mad at you. Thanks for everything. To Jay, good luck without all of us "seniors." It's almost like you should be leaving with us. What are you going to do without us? To Mike, I hope you find someone that treats you right. I know you haven't had the best of luck with that. To Jill and June, we finally made it!! To Janet, you're one of the best friends a person could have. To Terence, good luck with your next car.

And last to Joel Paulk, I leave you one more year without me here, but no matter what happens always remember that I love you and I'll never forget you!!

I, JILL GRINNELL, being of sound mind and petite body, leave to Lauren — my everlasting friendship. You're very special to me. I also leave to you those long hours of Golden Girl practice and those really long bus rides to the away games. I also wish you the best of luck with your love life; I leave to Kelli — many memories of Golden Girl practice. I definitely had a fun time with you standing next to me in line. Don't forget about "back to the future." I leave to Mike — the ability to dress yourself right and match at the same time. I also leave you the ability to find a girl that will stay with you for awhile. Thanks for being a good friend. Don't forget about the "horse joke" in Mr. Coleman's room; To Kham and Robin — I leave those many hours of G.G. practice without me. I had a lot of fun and will miss both of you; To Jeffery — thanks for listening. Your friendship really means a lot to me; To Janet — I leave you my friendship. Thanks for being one of the best friends I've ever had; Finally, to Layne — I leave to you, all my love. Thanks for being so special to me. I, JAMES HAMLIN, one of the greatest seniors of all times, wish my homeboys a greater future in P.C.H.S. To my little sister, Katina, I leave you all my Algebra 1 and 2 skills. My cousins, Ricky, Wesley and (future Freshman) Mitzie, I wish you the best. To the girls in P.C.H.S. who I enjoy talking to: R. Oates, C. Plant, J. Hodges, W. Oates, P. Oates, K. Banks, D. Davis, and many more, I wish you good luck in the future. To Sherry, a very special person who I will always love and remember, I wish you the best of all.

I, GARY HARRISON, being of sound mind and most excellent body, do hereby leave the Fab 5, Stephanie, Kelli, Ashley, Wendy and Robyn, a sack lunch and a sunny day for all the times we've had; to the Booze Brothers, Chuck, Jay, Robert, Dave, and Terence, a Long Island Ice Tea and a free ride home anytime, to the Homeroom Zoo Crew, Jeffery, Jacques, Ekanem, a bee-bop song of your choice, to Amy and Jenni I leave a raincheck on a movie and some gum (to keep your mouths occupied so you won't sing to me), to Kelli K., a horseback ride and a written document of "the Law." To Smitty, a new pair of glasses and the memory of our February swim, To Chris K., the title of Head Honcho in Mr. Orr's classes and over the Big Stick Club, To Ben B. a harem and one last meaningful conversation, to Mr. Orr's gifted classes, a word of advice, "get out while you can." To a special person, Lauren, I leave all the happiness I can give you, To Mr. Orr, a new stick, inflatable Pterodactyl, and a conversation while enjoying a pint of Haagen-Dazs ice cream, and to Mrs. Kicklighter a 5th period rental of Batman II, and last but certainly not least, To Terence David, a virgin Daiquiri (pardon the pun) and a friendship that just won't quit (despite your %@#&) Oh, I almost forgot, to all underclassmen, I leave Mr. Towns (for a laugh) and at least one more grueling year of high school.

I, SHARON HARVEY, being of drained mind and diminutive body leave Angie one more year at PCHS and a new mind (to replace the one corrupted after a year with me). Smitty, Ben, and Chris, I leave you Mr. B. To the "Fantastic Four," Kelli, Steph, Wendy and Ashley, I leave the ability to pass Mr. Orr's History tests. To Ben I leave the ability to graduate in two more years. To Mrs. Duke I leave all psychiatric help. To Brandee W. I leave you my ability to not worry and find a guy who is single. To Keisha W. and Terrail B. I leave some good sense and a sub sandwich for class. Thanks to the cheerleaders for a great year. To my mom I leave a peaceful home and an answering machine. Randy P. don't forget the good times and our friendship. K.A. and Amy W. enough straws to last and remember your stepmother loves you. To K.K. my "twin sister" a pink flamingo and my true friendship. Matt P. an everlasting friendship.

I, WENDY ELIZABETH LEE, being of sound mind and body leave to Mary Ann S., Nicole D., Cindy M., Missy C., and Lynn J. the hope that one day we'll have our "girls' night out" if I can ever get off work. Don't worry, it will be well worth the wait. To Dawn T. and Amy S. I leave only six letters "Sheep's." That should strike a few good memories. To Leslie C. I leave my lunch, and to Pam Y. I leave the pride of being a Senior and the happy thought that you will both be out of here soon. To Mr. Ezell I leave the dream that maybe someday you'll have another class as good as ours. We will miss you. To Patricia S. I leave the lonely thought of being the only CBE II student next year. To Mrs. Pearson I leave my thanks and appreciation for giving me a chance. To Christy S. and Brian S. I leave nothing because I'll see you both at work all the time and to all of my underclass friends, I leave the best years at PCHS.

I, LANIER MCGEHEE, being of sound mind and body, leave to Julie and Elaine, our "chicken walk" and all the laughs we had on the field. To Angie, I gladly leave you "ears," all of our bus talks, and don't ever forget our night at Lonesome Dove. Have a great Senior year on GG! Thanks for being a great friend, I love you! To Cindy, I leave all of our "foot-stomping" GG practices. To Ashley, I leave little stretch gloves that don't even have to stretch. To Randy, I hope you get along with Mrs. Duke better than Jeffery did! To Sheftall, I leave you the memory of being "toasted" and my skiing abilities. To Chris R., I leave you $250 and my brains. Thanks for all the help you gave me 'cause I never would have made it. To Amanda, I leave you with Romper Room. Good Luck! To Debbie, I leave all of the wonderful memories of Music/Art, Biology 2, and American History! Don't ever forget film day or the skinny girl that walked in Biology 2. You've been a great friend. To Deanne, I leave you all your many guys. Pick a good one 'cause you deserve the best. Don't forget all of our "eye-rolls" in Mr. Orr's class or our lunches that were different every day! To Mrs. Hubbard, I leave you lots and lots of paper clips and multiple choice tests. To Mr. Watford, I leave you a lifetime supply of Reese's cups, as many index cards as you can handle and all of your + #'s, and always remember the day you told me that I had exempted! To Mrs. Barber, I leave all of our early morning

I, RICHARD McGHEE, being of sound mind and body, leave these things to the following people: To Rocky and Jabar I leave a dime and my place at the spot; To Rude, Bean, and Moonie I leave common sense; To my boy, DEO, I leave some meat on your bones. I leave Katina alone and Ato my seat on bus #3 and finally, to Carla G., I leave a smile for her face, the ability to stop attracting so many boys when I'm with her, and the dollar she says I owe her.

I, JENNIFER McLEAN, being of totally unstable mind and body, do hereby bequeath to Elaine F. a Mercedes from my first million, and to Lauren S. I leave my spot on the fifty yard line. To "The Crew," Kelli, LuAnn, Kandy, and Amy, I leave lots more laughs and a lifetime supply of straws. To Jeffery, Jay, and Dave thanx for the friendship, you'll always be my brothers. To Chuck, a place in my heart forever endures . . . To Jill I leave no more competitions!! To Gary I leave a phone call and one round of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer." And to the judges, I leave you no more people to judge.

I, TIFFANY LYNN McLEOD, being of sound mind and small body leave to Dawn all the friendship I can give. Thanks for always being there for me. To my brother Richard — good luck in high school when you finally get there. The rest I take with me to share with Mark James in the future.

I, ERNEST C. McRAE, B.K.A. E-MAC, being of retarded mind and brilliant body, bequeath the following: To Grandma Strange I leave my white mouth, personal jokes, and friendship; To my sister

I leave my wisdom and encouragement to go on and do the best in school; To Mr. Beaty I leave my Macy's card to buy a new wardrobe; To my homeboys I leave my degree in the 4F's; To Tonya S. I leave "Stank" to take care of you while I'm gone. (Can't get enough of that funky stuff. Also, use 2 bars of soap and a S.O.S. pad when bathing.) To all my homegirls; you know who you are; stay sweet and take care; last but not least, to Yng-weet, I leave my heart and my love. I will miss you. May the ground you walk on be paved with roses and gold. Love ya! P.C.H.S., I'm outta here!

I, LAWRENCE MEADOWS, B.K.G. "Grip" with a sound body and no mind would like to leave this to the following: To Erica Chaney, I leave the ability to find a boyfriend. And to the Boys, Duke, Scott, Keith, and Ryan, I leave the ability to have more good weekends like we have had together; To Ryan and Duke the ability to go to clubs and wake up the next morning and to go to school. And to Shawn, the ability to "Graduate" with pride. To the main man Tany "Buckle Head" Curtis a truck load of mint. And to Tony, you can have my ability to have all the girls. To Wade, "What do you see when you go in a dark room?" Nothing. And to Oak, I leave Erica sound mind and TALL body leave to my sister, Jennifer, my position on the softball team and 3 more years of this boring place. Have fun in FFA "farmer girl" and try not to out do those boys too bad. To Carissa, my ability to get to softball practice on time. To Sandra, my ability to do aerobics. To The Lady Trojans — Good Luck! — I hope you can make it without me. To the friends

Derrick Pinney

I take with me: Terence, Jason A., "Hobbyhorse," Chuck, Jeffery B., Michelle H., Sharon R., and Jenny H. — WE MADE IT!! Thanx for being such great friends. To June, Jan, and Jill — thanx for all the wonderful memories and for being the BEST friends a person could ever have through both the good and bad times. Let's not tackle any more ditches. To Joel and Jay — 1 more year at P.C.H.S. — It'll be over soon! To Buddy — B-careful riding those horses. It can get messy. I'M OUTTA HERE!

I, YOLANDA OWENS, being of outstanding mind but rather unique body thank God because without him I would not have made it; my mother and stepfather for teaching me to hold my head up high and take pride in the things I do. Sammie, Ama, Danielle, Samaria, Patricia, and Michelle — "Good Luck" in this thing called life. Last but most important, all my love, hugs, kisses, and memories belong to Victor Howell. Though you will be coming with me, I want you to know that you mean so much to me, and I Love You very much. If I didn't call your name or say anything about you, it was no mistake. I leave you alone.

Randy Pitts

I, TOMIA ESPERANZA PALMER, being of sound mind and petite body, do hereby bequeath the following: To Felice, the ability to "keep on moving" without me; To LaTonya, Ynggrid, Michelle, and Kim, memories of Golden Girl practices; To LaTisha, remember the Housequake; To the lunch crew, especially Titus and Eric, "hot" gossip sessions; and to James, a wonderful friendship, lots of laughs, and my love. May we always have one another.

I, LARRY PARKS, being of great mind and body, hereby leave the following. To my Favorite teachers, Mrs. L. Johnson and Mrs. Lee, I leave gratitude and success. Thanks for all the help and support you both have given me. To PCHS I leave good luck to get better; to all the girls that like me I leave love, friendship, a key to my room, and the ability to go to school without me. To all those that don't like me I leave pain, trouble, and hard times; To Lynn Gassett, Stacy Gibson, Natasha Gibson, Michelle McRae, Theodosia Strange, Rechelle Stubb, and Wylcisa Jackson, I leave my special love, friendship, a favorite trust, and all the good times we had. To everyone who I have forgotten, I leave you with the memory of being forgotten (too bad).

I WALT PEAVEY, being of sound mind and body, do hereby bequeath to Tiffany Childress, three more years of pain, sweat, and temper loss in band. To Chuck Haire, many thanks for being my best friend. Easy on the greent M&M's. To Carey Hilburn, my incomparable trumpet expertise. To Rich Bennett, you're the best. And to all the underclassmen, see ya, pal!

I MATT PERRY, being of short body and no-neck leave you the underclassmen — nothing. I had to work for it, and so do you. Also, I might need it later. To the entire Peach County Faculty, I leave you a little brother who is just like me. May God be with you. My love only goes one place. I love you, Susan.

I, DIANNE PIKE, being of sound mind and wisdom, do hereby leave to Felicia Bowen two more years of Peach County High School; to Pam: I'll always remember you and keep you in my heart. To Dottie Moore I leave one year of school without me; to Mr. Singleton and Mrs. Craft: I leave you with all my weird and wacky friends.

I, D-HEAD, being of aggravating mind and body do hereby leave to Layne, Jason, Randy, Troy, Al, Mike, and Scott W. all the long practices and our last year of football. Ain't none of ya'll worth a $@#¢! To Charlie and Scotty U. I leave another year of "there's nothing I can do about it and there's nothing you can do about it; let's go to work." Plus another year of summer practice. To Terence David I leave a hat shaped like a Trojan Plus and he knows why. To Rumble I leave a pack of Levi Garrett, and to "Killer" I leave a "new knee." Lastly I leave to Kelli, LuAnn, Amy, Hope, and everyone else I left out a friendship that will last long after I'm gone. To Heather I leave all my love and another year of this "wonderful" school.

I, RANDY PITTS, leave to the following; Charlie — a partner to argue with at the lunch table, Scott — a decent shot in front of the backboard. K.K. and L.L. — a friendship forever; Matt — a neck someday: To all the Seniors at PCH, good luck, you all need it. To the Coaches, thanks. Last but not least, to I.F., my love.

I, CELESTE ALEXANDRIA PONDER, being of brilliant mind and elegant body do leave the following: To Val Ezell I leave all the deceitful tricks I have used to make it through my prison term here at PCHS. To Nicole Strange and Melvin Walker I leave the ability to make it through their final year. To Rulah Benett I

I Love You Both!!!

Homecoming '89

Homecoming Week took a traditional turn as students prepared for the big game on Friday. Senior homerooms competed in games to test their skills during lunch. A new addition, the Sock Race, was added to the tricycle race, onion race, and egg toss events. The winning homeroom claimed a trophy that remains in their room for the entire year.

At the Pep Rally, Seniors paraded as Troup County beauties in the Mr. and Mrs. Troup County contest. Rob Tyson and April Heard won first place for their "incredible" looks.

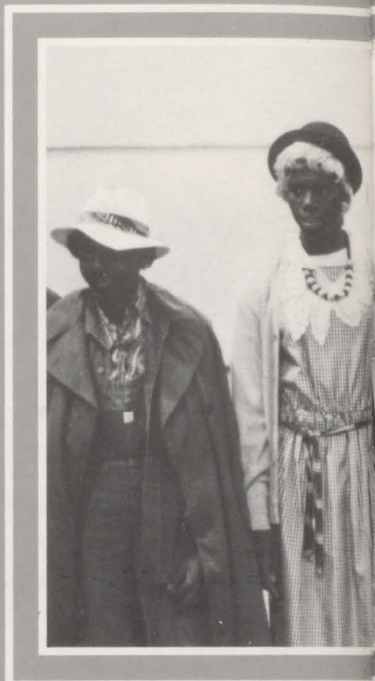

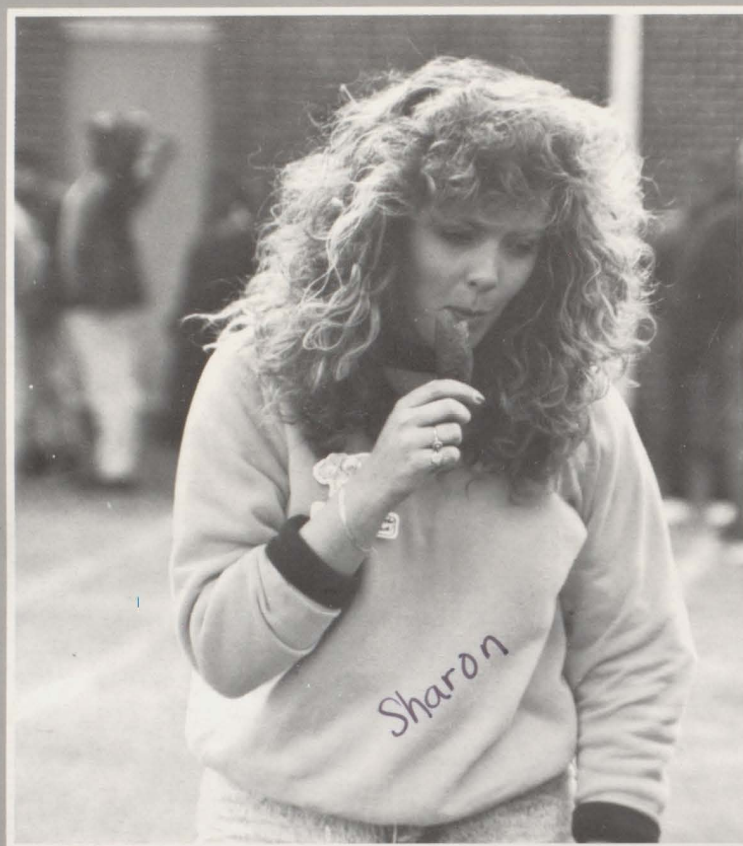

Underclassmen joined the fun in the Trojo coloring contest won by Miss Holly's homeroom. Mrs. Branch's homeroom won helmet contest; Mrs. Kicklighter's won the door contest. Juniors stole the show in the Spirit ribbon contest.

The Mr. and Miss Troup County contest is one of the most hilarious contests of Homecoming Week. This year was no exception. Pictured are some of the contestants: Samaria Drake, Thad Jackson, Lamar Jones, Angela Howard, Varrick Barton, Tomia Palmer, Wood Grady, and Rich Bennett.

The homecoming Trojanette runoffs are always interesting. As usual it was a fight to the finish. Those prevailing were: Freshmen — Kham Cummings and Jocelyn Howard, Sophomores — Priscilla Collins and Lynn Joyner, Juniors — Tami Shealy and Nicole Strange. The winning Seniors were Tammy Giles, Kristi Brewton, Kelli Kennedy, and Kathy Rumph.

This year's crowning of the Homecoming Queen was unique. For the first year ever, the reigning Queen returned to relinquish her crown. Stephanie Scott, Homecoming Queen 1988, crowned Homecoming Queen 1989, Kelli Kennedy.

A Homecoming dance? For weeks rumors circulated. Then came the big news: parents of the Cheerleading squad and Golden Girls drill team went before the school board asking permission for a dance. The result: the first school sponsored dance in years.

Black and gold lined the cafeteria walls thanks to the decorating efforts of the Golden Girls and Cheerleaders. Students danced to tunes played by D.J. Buster Walker. Breathless dancers were treated to refreshments provided by parents. The Homecoming Dance ensured the success of the upcoming school-sponsored prom.

The 1989 Football season had its share of exciting moments. Many players had a moment in the spotlight. Our quarterback, Derrick Pinney, made some outstanding passes. These completed passes often made the difference between winning and losing. He proved to be a terrific quarterback. Gerald Walker, a runningback, topped his high school record by running the ball over 1000 yards. In order for Gerald to make these runs, we had to have extremely good blocking. Senior Jason Tucker always came through.

Not only did we push them back, we held them back. Our defense showed extraordinary strength this year. Scottie Walton, a sophomore, showed superior strategy as a starter. Kelvin Hill kept his eye on the man with the ball and made several interceptions.

We're also proud of our lead-foot kicker. Chad Pender proved to be an excellent asset to our Trojan team. When the score was tied we sent Chad in, and he proved to be a real Trojan.

Congratulations on a wonderful season to Derrick, Chad, Scottie, Kelvin, Gerald, Jason, and the whole team. You did a great job!

The 1989 Lady Trojans have completed another successful season. This year is the first year there have been captains. These captains were elected by the members of the softball team.

To the catcher, Kelli! To the catcher!

The team chose Andrea Hill and Christie Thompson to lead them to victory. There was also a new coach, Bonnie Phippen, who proved to be a real leader. There were several special awards given at the Athletic Banquet that was held in the spring.

“LEADERS” of

The makings of this year's squad all began last May at tryouts. After tryouts you saw many disappointed faces, but to the ones who were not sad this was just the beginning of a long and rough year.

During the summer, the girls practiced Monday thru Thursday early in the morning to prepare for camp. This hard work paid off at camp, because the cheerleaders won three superior ribbons (the highest daily honor) and one excellent ribbon (a step below superior). The best award came on the last day. The cheerleaders got to take the highest honor at camp home with them — “The Spirit Stick.”

When school started the squad was ready to raise the school's spirit. They did this by leading pep rallies and having spirit competitions between the classes. At homecoming the cheerleaders helped sponsor the first homecoming dance at the school which was a great spirit raiser.

Besides helping raise school spirit, the cheerleaders supported the football and basketball teams by cheering them on to victory. Even when the teams did not win, the squad was still there to give the teams a pat on the back.

Thanks to the cheerleaders for all their spirit. They truly are “Leaders of Victory.”

MAKING A LITTLE

The 1989 Tennis Team "ruffled a few feathers" as they swept across the court taking the match with them. This year we had a spectacular tennis team that the opponents just couldn't defeat. We're all proud that they're part of our team. This year we

Arrive Alive

Arrive Alive promotes the message "Don't Drink and Drive" throughout the student body and surrounding communities. By enlightening students of the dangers they place themselves and others in by driving while under the influence, the organization strives to save property and lives. Community involvement is an important element of Arrive Alive.

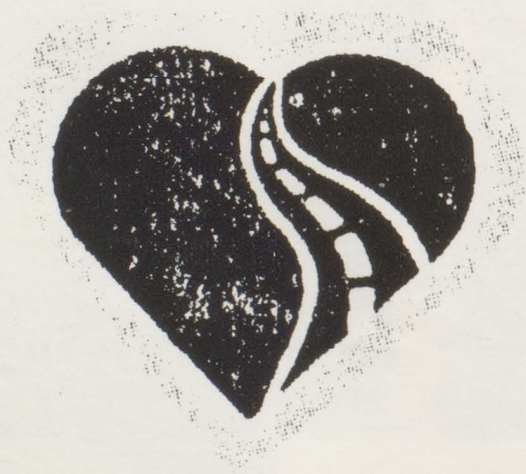

Activities included a food drive to aid Hurricane Hugo victims and the yearly "Tie-One-On" campaign. Red ribbons were tied on cars to remind students and the community to have a safe holiday season.

Other activities are held around the prom and graduation night.

Academic Clubs

Beta and National Honor Society

A chapter of the National Honor Society — the oldest scholastic honor society in the country — was organized at PCHS in the spring of 1987. In order to be invited to join the National Honor Society, a student must have a 95 overall average in all academic courses, be active in community affairs, participate in extra-curricular activities, and be of high moral fibre.

The faculty advisor is Mr. Orr, and the membership committee is Miss Bell, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. Duke, Mr. Orr and Mr. Spearman.

Key Club Pledges Service

This was the first Key Club at Peach Co. H.S. in several years. The Key Club is a service organization. The motto of the Key Club is "Caring — Our Way of Life."

One of the club's projects this year was "Adopt a Grandparent." Each club member selected some needy person (old or handicapped) in the community and assisted that person any way they could. They also visited in the Nursing Home once a week and helped with various activities.

Future plans include "Adopt a Road." Key Club members will select a road in the city or county and be responsible for keeping the roadway clean.

Drama Comes In With a Bang

In its first year, the Drama Club has become very active and has been well received not only by the students and faculty, but also by the community. Mr. Slusser, the Club's advisor, has worked diligently to help gain a good reputation for the Drama Club.

The Drama Club has worked hard and has had six productions. Their first was "The Trojan Follies," a talent show which put the spotlight on students within the school. The One-Act Play, Antigone, was not only performed at the school but also in Augusta, at the Georgia Theatre Convention and at Region One-Act at Macon College. During the winter, they produced "A Very Merry Christmas," a cabaret-style show, and To Kill A Mockingbird. Spring productions include another cabaret, "An Evening on Broadway" and A Spring Musical.

Aside from all their productions, the Drama Club attended several theatre conventions and performances.

FHA Serves

Future Homemakers of America is incorporated as a non-profit national vocational student organization for young women and men in home economics in public and private schools through grade 12. It is open to students of all races and religious beliefs.

FHA's goal is to help youth assume their roles in society. They hope to accomplish this through home economics education in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation and community involvement.

FHA operates on youth-centered leadership. All members take part in the planning by determining and carrying out chapter goals.

FHA is funded primarily by the students. They pay annual dues, club dues and have fund raisers.

The PCHS chapter has been very active this past year. They visited the Little People Day Care Center on Halloween, took a field trip to Atlanta on December 13, gave the Nursing Home a Valentine's Day party February 14, and and the 1st Annual Red and White Ball on February 17.

They also planned for a Pre-Prom Fashion Show and an end of the year formal banquet.

Farmer's Forum

Though agriculture was a main part of the Future Farmers of America, FFA was no longer just a club for farmers. It's many parts offered something for almost everyone.

The changes took place locally and nationally. The school's chapter held its first election for Junior officers. Chris Smallwood, Stephanie Bloodworth, Bryan Land, Justin Collins, and Chris Hancock were elected. The new leaders attended the first officer's training weekend at Camp John Hope along with the Perry, Crawford County, and Macon County chapters. The state secretary and District I Vice President spoke to new officers there. Stephanie Bloodworth and Bryan Land attended the 62nd National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri. At the convention, delegates voted on many FFA changes. One of these was the changing of the FFA symbol which now reads "Agriculture Education".

FFA members were busy with a number of projects. Jason Fox and Courtney Terhune were delegates at the State FFA Convention. The following week, members attended camp. For elementary students, Troy Dailey, Courtney Terhune, and Stephanie Bloodworth took a show lamb to the first graders at Hunt Elementary School. Deborah Ahlvin helped with Career Day at the Byron and Ft. Valley Middle Schools. At the annual Mossy Creek Arts and Crafts Festival, club members held a petting zoo and horse ride. Two FFA teams competed in the annual vocational interclub volleyball tournament.

GAMA Goes to State

"Our meeting will now come to order," said President Tomia Palmer. The monthly meeting of the Gama Club, which promotes the media, began as members rose and said the Club's creed. Gama Sponsor, Mrs. McCray, looked on as the meeting progressed in the library. There was much to be discussed, from planning the district meeting to arranging the location for a lock-in. Russell Lawrence presented the design for the club T-shirts members order each year. Committee chairman told the group about the decisions that had been made prior to the meeting.

The Gama Club played an important role in school activities. Members paid to have their school president and state president ride in the Homecoming and Christmas Parade. Selling Heart-a-grams in February was a favorite. "Heart-a-grams are our biggest fundraiser and everybody enjoys receiving them," said Val Ezell. Each morning a member announced "the word for the day." The member read a word or phrase and told its background to improve student's vocabulary.

On the state level, Daphne Walker was elected this year's President. GAMA participated in many activities at the State conference as well as submitting a scrapbook recounting the year's activities.

Secretary, Daphne Walker, read the minutes from a previous meeting.

Junior Classical League

The purpose of the Junior Classical League, known as Latin Club, is to maintain the history of the Roman culture.

The members meet once each month to celebrate in Roman tradition. New members must dress up in togas for a party at Pizza Hut as initiation. Also, at the first of the year, officers are elected. In October, a festival to raise funds was put on by the Latin Club. Soon after, the club members bought Latin Club t-shirts with an emblem designed by Chris Khoury. He and Titus Deas are co-presidents. Eric Newton and Hope Bickley are co-vice-presidents.

Big Business

FBLA On-the-Go

FBLA's year began earlier than most. The club was represented during the National Leadership Conference in Orlando by Region 5 Vice-President Kirk Scott, Jennifer Bennett, Jennifer Taylor, and advisor, Mrs. Susan Pearson.

During the summer, Peach County FBLA officers attended camp at the FFA/FHA Camp in Covington. Officers learned leadership and communication skills and participated in fun-filled activities.

When school began, the Chapter welcomed new faculty members to PCHS by presenting them with TROJAN license plates.

In October, the Chapter held the fundraiser, "Tom Watt," and sales totaled approximately $8,000. In November, the Chapter participated in the annual vocation club citrus sale which profited approximately $500. The proceeds helped pay for the Fall Leadership Conference in Atlanta and other school and community activities.

DEBATERS TRAVEL

The Debate Team travelled all over Georgia, from Carrollton to Augusta, from Valdosta to Chattanooga, debating this year's resolution on decreasing overcrowding in prisons and jails in the United States. The team endured 3:00 a.m. wake-up calls, frigid bus trips, and countless arguments about "where to eat this time." Everyone put in a great deal of work and effort, as proven by the more than two dozen trophies and plaques won by the entire team. Although more than half of the team was novice, it was a very successful year, resulting in the Region 3-AAA championship.

Getting there is the biggest obstacle! Debaters Laurie Dubriel, Kate McCall, Woody Hill, Jason Murtagh, Michael Edwards, Ben Butler and Renee Washington struggle with the problem of a flat tire.

Fearless leader, Mr. Watford, flags down help for stranded debaters.

Woody Hill, Michael Edwards, and Jason Murtagh contend that looking good is the first step in being a good debater.

A Scientific Point of View

Living up to its motto, promoting scientific leadership, the science club teaches the application of scientific principles to problem solving. The science club colors are blue and white. The activities for the year consisted of the annual calendar sales and sponsoring the science fair. They helped set up projects and some members entered projects of their own.

The students were advised by Mrs. Gayenell and Mrs. Kay Kicklighter.

Officers for the year were—
President — LaTisha Fluellen
Vice-President — Stacey Dixon
Secretary — Daphne Walker
Treasurer — Leslie Burton

Vocational Clubs Offer

VICA

The VICA Chapter helped make football more festive by sponsoring a barbeque supper as a part of the kick-off celebration. The club members barbequed 500 chicken halves on an open pit for this occasion. The members prepared, cooked, and served the chicken as a result of their VICA food service training.

They participated in leadership and skill competition and placed first in prepared speech, job interview, electronic product servicing, culinary arts, extemporaneous speaking, and job skill demonstration.

The club sponsored a poster display throughout the school on drug education. The faculty and student body participated by wearing a red ribbon to call attention to the "War on Drugs." Other activities included a Toys for Tots Christmas Project, Teacher Appreciation Breakfast, and donating canned goods to the victims of Hurricane Hugo.

The culminating activity for the year was the Annual Steak Supper for Trades and Industrial Education to say "thank you" to employers and sponsors.

CBE AND DCT

For vocational experience outside the classroom, students participated in CBE (Cooperative Business Education) and DCT (Diversified Cooperative Training). CBE, which is sponsored by FBLA, and DCT both allowed students to leave school early to work at some places of business. They learned valuable work skills and were provided with opportunities for future work.

VOCA

VOCA Club members may concentrate on vocational pursuits, but that does not mean they are not interested in athletics also. VOCA began its year with a win in the vocational inter-club volleyball tournament. They battled FFA, FHA, VICA, and FBLA members for the title. Club members also participated in the traditional emblem ceremony. Students prepared for futures in the business world and learned techniques for being leaders in their field by working in civic and occupational projects.

April Heard serves at the Teacher Appreciation Breakfast.

The VOCA bulletin board is filled with news and ideas for hard working members.

Tammy Absher, Toby Pryor, Kim Andrews, and Larry Davis present the VOCA emblem ceremony.

BOWLS

Science Bowl

The Science Bowl team annually participates in competition related to all areas of science. These activities include tests and quiz-bowl style competition. The team travels to various locations for these contests against schools from across Georgia.

Students are chosen according to a selection process based on tested knowledge in various fields of science.

Quiz Bowl

Members of the Quiz Bowl team are chosen based on their knowledge in several subjects as shown through a comprehensive test. The team attends several competitions against other schools in the Middle Georgia area during the year. Last year Middle Georgia RESA hosted its first practice competition at Mary Persons high school. Second year member Chris Rader said, "Quiz Bowl really challenges the extent of one's knowledge, which is great, but the best part is the lemon drops!"

Science Bowl Members are: David Daniell, Chris Rader, Bradley Carthon, Jason Murtagh, Advisor, Mrs. Kay Kicklighter, LaTisha Fluellen, Jenny McLean, Michelle McRae, Advisor, Mrs. Gaynelle Clark, Neal David, Lawrence Allison, Woody Hill and Chris Parker.

Below: Jason Murtagh practices for Quiz Bowl Competition.

Neal David, who is on both bowl teams, studies for competition.

Quiz Bowl Competitors are: Advisor, Mrs. Elizabeth Duke, Brian Smision, Jason Murtagh, Woody Hill, Chris Rader, Neal David and Jenny Simpson.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

For the first time in years, the student body elected class officers. Each class elected a president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer. The Student Government was busy, throughout the year, with the first ever Candy-Gram sale and the unity tree at Christmas time. Mrs. Hubbard is the advisor. She worked hard along with the officers to make Student Government a success. The Senior representatives are Kristi Brewton, President; Vice President, Robin Brenman; Julie Turner, Secretary; and Treasurer, Deanne Dotson. The Junior representatives are LaTisha Fluellen, President; Vice President, Titus Deas; Angelle Shannon, Secretary; and Treasurer, Eric Newton. The representatives for the Sophomore Class are President, Woody Hill; Yolanda Ellison, Vice President; Danielle Jackson, Secretary; and Treasurer, William Moultrie. The Freshman representatives are Timothy Deas, President; Vice President, Jason Murtagh; Secretary, Tamara Taylor; and Derrick McWilliams, Treasurer.

Our Annual Staff

A Cut Above the Rest

"When the going gets tough, the tough take Tylenol." This little phrase summed up the year of 1989-90 for the annual staff. This year's staff was a 'cut above the rest' especially when it came to cutting up!

Even though our editor, Sharon Harvey, wanted to commit suicide, no one on the staff would allow it for fear he might be delegated her responsibilities.

Aside from telling jokes and gossiping, the staff acted as a family. We shared our own personal experiences, hurts, and joys. Therefore, all our opinions came together and with hard work and much discussion we produced the best yearbook ever!

DISASTERS EAST AND WEST

Natural disasters struck both east and west in the U.S. An eastern coastal community tried to rebuild after the destruction of Hurricane Hugo. Following this, tragedy struck California in one of the worst earthquakes since 1904. Americans clung together during these times offering donations of time, money, food, and clothing.

STUDENTS SAY . . .

Over half the students at PCHS were polled. When asked "What is the most threatening problem of the United States in your opinion?", the results were:

| | |
|-----|--------------|
| 48% | drug abuse |
| 35% | AIDS |
| 6% | the homeless |
| 6% | pollution |
| 5% | other |

All of these are serious problems, but 5% of the students felt that there are other threatening problems in our country. Some examples given were the destruction of the family, crime, prison overcrowding, racial discrimination, and mentally, physically, and sexually abused children.

The students were also asked, "Do you trust Gorbachev?" It was found that 78% of the students do not trust the President of the Soviet Union. When asked, "Why not?", Latonya Studstill explained that he cannot be a good man if he has climbed to the top of the Soviet government. Tomia Palmer's reason for not trusting him was "He is ugly." On the other hand, 22% do trust him. "If I trust Bush, I trust Gorbachev." was LaTisha Fluellen's response.

The Good, The Bad, The Convicted

Recently TV evangelist Jim Bakker was in the headlines for reasons that were far from praiseworthy. His secret relationship with Jessica Hahn was highly publicized. It was discovered that Bakker was sent millions of dollars in exchange for Heritage USA lodging privileges, which he could not provide. He was then convicted of fraud and conspiracy.

While Jim Bakker endures his 45-year prison term, the other televangelists are going through changes for the good and bad. Oral Roberts, whose staff has been cut one fourth, has resorted to mortgaging some of his empire's assets. It has been estimated that Jimmy Swaggart now earns one million dollars a week which is two million less than he once earned, and his staff has been reduced to about two-thirds its former size. Pat Robertson, on the other hand, has increased the number of stations his show is aired on and has added many more employees to his staff. Will TV evangelism be successful in the 1990's?

SPORTS NEWS

This year's biggest story in sports was the trial of Cincinnati Reds Manager Pete Rose. Rose, indicted on charges of illegal betting on baseball, denied the accusations. He was suspended from baseball for life, but can appeal the decision in a year.

World Series Champion Oakland A's battled more than the opposing San Francisco Giants when an earthquake rocked Candlestick Park.

Close to home, in football, the Georgia Southern Eagles were the first team this century to have a perfect season. The crowning glory was becoming Division 1-AA champions.

World Heavyweight champion Mike Tyson ended the much publicized Tyson-Spinks fight in 45 seconds. The knockout champion made the fight one of the shortest in history.

San Francisco broke all-time records when they slaughtered Denver, 55-10, at the Super Bowl.

CHANGE TO DEMOCRACY

As President Gorbachev's glasnost opened doors to new freedoms for the Soviet Union and communist countries, these countries became aware of their rights. Beginning with Poland, countries rallied and overthrew their government. Rumania, East Germany, Hungary, and Czechoslovakia joined the ranks of newly democratic countries. Maybe the best picture of this new freedom was the thousands of East and West Germans bringing down the Berlin Wall that had separated them for years.

Rambo Ron

On Wednesday, December 20, 1989, the United States invaded Panama with an aim to capture the well-known drug king, Manuel Noriega.

Ron Borders, a PCHS graduate, visited our campus and talked with Mrs. Duke's World History classes about his role in the Panama invasion. Ron is with the 82nd Airborne, 1st Battalion, 504 Parachute Infantry Regiment. "I don't care too much about seeing combat again anytime soon," was one of his thoughts after his first taste of battle.

SCANDAL IN ATLANTA

In July, 1988, Rob Lowe, Ally Sheedy, Justin Bateman, and other celebrities came to Atlanta to attend the National Democratic Convention. On July 17, Lowe picked up 23-year-old Tara Seburn and 16-year-old Jan Parsons and took them back to his hotel where they made a pornographic video. Neither girl put up a struggle.

Three days later, Jan's adopted brother showed the tape to their mother, Lana Parsons. Lana was in the process of a bitter divorce, and she waited until the divorce was finalized in March, 1989, before she brought charges against Lowe.

Lowe received a slap on the wrist by having 20 hours of community service as his sentence.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Many changes have occurred during the previous school year. The Senior and Junior classes will be first to experience an integrated Junior/Senior Prom. "It is a change that is well overdue," said Daphne Walker, a Senior. Michael Goddard, a Junior, felt that the integration was not the problem, it's where it's being held.

As Peach County is growing, certain community services have felt the need to move on to bigger and better things. The need for a bigger middle school in Fort Valley has been solved by the building of a new one behind PCHS on Peggy Drive. Byron also added the outlet mall. Two new restaurants are an addition to Fort Valley, too; Subway is already here, but Marion A. Allen's restaurant is still under construction.

Hopefully, these changes will help to better Peach County in the near future.

GWTW

All of Atlanta was in a stir as the 50th anniversary of the premiere of Gone With the Wind approached. Encouraged by Ted Turner, who owns the rights to the movie, preparation for the celebration began months ahead. Among the events planned were countless parties and dancing, a costume ball, even a Rhett Butler and Scarlett O'Hara look-alike contest. A Gone With the Wind shop at the Omni was filled with souvenirs. The grand re-premiere was held at Fox Theatre in place of the original location, Lowe's Grand Theatre.

Visitor

Every year, students from around the world come to our school through student exchange programs. This year, the student was Stefanie Sormani, from Maastricht, Holland. Stefanie is a Senior. She says that she really likes America. "I have a lot of good friends with whom I have great times." Stefanie enjoys America so much that she wants to go to college here. Many teenagers ride bicycles in Holland, and Stefanie says that the fact that most American teenagers have a car is one of the major differences between America and Holland. Another difference is the way teenagers spend their spare time.

Heading up Stefanie's list of things she will miss are her friends, her host family, and the great times she has had here.

Stefanie came to America through the E. F. Foundation for exchange students.

HISTORY PROJECTS —

Though history students moaned and groaned over the hard work they put into their projects for Ms. Duke's class, in the end they had something to be proud of. Every free space in the library was crowded with marvels of ancient times. There were treasures from mystic places and fine works of architecture such as two working gallows and countless famous buildings.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO ...?

What would you do if someone came up to you at school and asked you a silly question? Make up a silly answer?

What would you do if you were approached by a gallinipper?

"Buy him a drink." — Jenni McLean and Terrence David (Seniors).

"I would like him — have him as a friend."

Jemal Stephens (Junior).

"Run!" — Josh Roberts (Freshman).

How would you treat tragomaschalia?

"Give it a shot" — Layne Smith (Senior).

"Very, very carefully" — Mary Ann Skipper (Sophomore).

"Oxy 10" — Ben Sanders (Freshman).

Where would you find a didunculus?

"In a cow pasture" — Sandra Robitzsch (Junior).

"Robyn Kicklighter's house" — Chris Pyles (Sophomore).

"With the Gallinipper" — Mr. Kennedy.

If you have been wondering, "What are these things?"; a gallinipper is a mosquito, tragomaschalia is bad smelling armpits, and the didunculus is the only living relative of the dodo bird.

BOMB Threat

Six weeks tests were almost interrupted on November 10, when students had to leave class because someone called in a bomb threat. The two hour holiday was celebrated by dancing in the parking lot on one side of the school and a dirt bomb war on the other. However, for school officials, the threat was a much more serious matter. Police covered the entire school searching for the bomb, and when it wasn't found, class and exams were resumed. Several days later the phone bandits were caught.

SENIOR SEARCH

This college sounds good. But, wait, this one offers a scholarship for Pre-med majors. Hey, this one has private rooms for only a fraction more in cost. What about this college's Biology department. Boy, this university is in downtown Atlanta. I could get anything I need in a minute. But this college is close to home, and I could run home if I needed anything. So go the thoughts of a typical high school senior.

Although some seniors enter the kaleidoscope of colleges and universities knowing exactly what they want from a college, the majority do not. It takes that barrage of mail from colleges, the PROBE, and the "Senior boards" for most to decide on a college or university.

"It is hard for me to decide what college to go to. Although I only have two I am considering, the choice between the two is a tough decision." This particular Senior's choice was made for her when she received a scholarship from one of her choices. Some Seniors are not so lucky.

Student Poll of Leading Problems at PCHS

What is the most imposing problem of our school? When the students were asked this question the response was:

| | |
|-----|-----------------------|
| 45% | teenage pregnancy |
| 17% | lack of motivation |
| 15% | drug/alcohol abuse |
| 12% | racial discrimination |

The other 11% however, believed that there were other major problems such as the dress code, school food, the Board of Education, and boring classes.

Students Honored

Sophomores who compete for the Hugh O'Brien Leadership Award are required to write an essay answering three questions. This July, Lesli Burton will represent Peach Co. High at a state-wide seminar. Once there she will be eligible for the worldwide Hugh O'Brien Leadership Award Seminar in Minnesota.

Woody Hill acted as a representative of the 4-H Club by attending the state legislature in Atlanta. While there, he carried information among the district legislators. Woody described his trip by saying, "I enjoyed the experience, and some day I hope to make the laws myself."

PCHS's debate team took first place in the Region Debate Tournament. Ben Butler and Woody Hill were the affirmative team; Michael Edwards and Mamar Gelaye were the negative team. Both teams had a perfect record of 1-0. Woody took first speaker award, Ben took second, Michael third, and Mamar fourth. They attended state competition in February.

FASHION of the 90's Anything Goes!

School halls were filled with students doing their own thing as far as fashion was concerned. Everything seemed to be "in." Some students kept conservative with classic button downs and jeans, while others stretched the dress code with their daring style. All kinds of prints and paisleys could be found. For everyone who said they would never wear bell bottoms, wide, baggy pants burst on to the fashion scene. Any length was a good length for skirts. Big, flashy jewelry was popular. Girls and boys sported leather bombers. Amanda Swift summed it all up, "Fashion is what you want it to be. Who wants to look like everybody else? Be daring!"

Advisor-Editor

The winds of change are forever blowing,
In time they are lost not knowing their way.
All the while the streams are flowing,
Following the same path as yesterday.

This year's annual is a result of the winds of change blowing past. After much thought and numerous discussions, the Retrospect Staff decided that, "It's about time for a change." This annual represents the changes that have occurred at PCHS in the past year. Memories of the past year rush to mind. These memories are what we, the staff, tried to capture.

To all the staff I give my thanks. After all the arguing and critiquing, we finally pulled through. To Mr. Orr I give my everlasting gratitude for being such a wonderful advisor. To my family, I was happy for the help. And finally, I give a very special thanks to JAV3 for all your support this past year. I Love You.

It is with pride that I relinquish my title to next year's editor. I hope my successor has as wonderful a year as I have had.

☺ Sharon

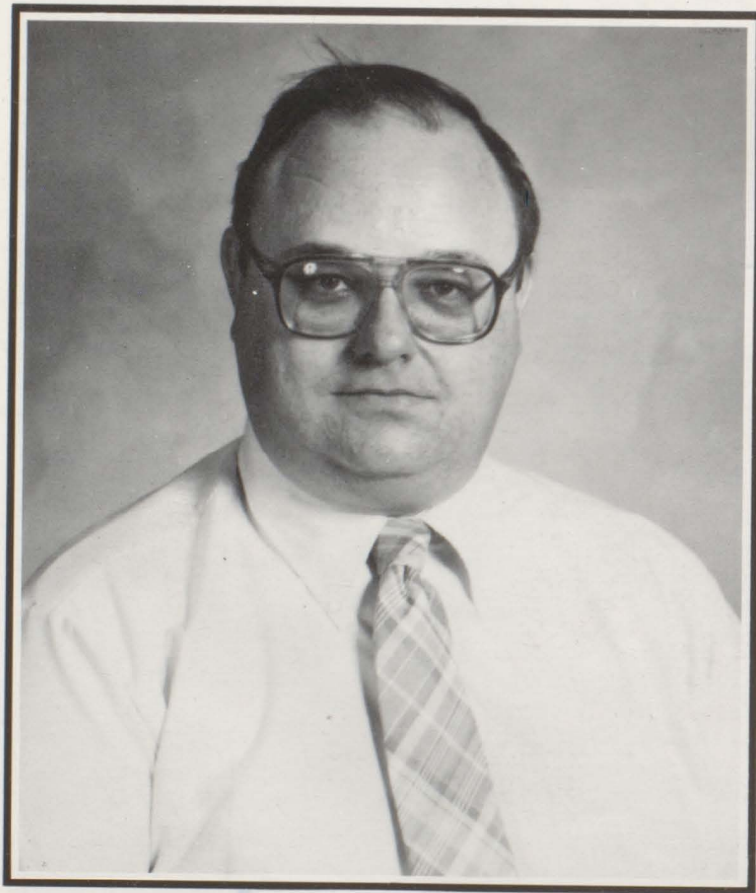

It has been a genuine pleasure being the advisor for the 1990 Retrospect. My task has been made easier by the marvelous, cooperative spirit exhibited by the administration, staff, faculty and students. Several hundred people have contributed to this yearbook, and to them I extend hearty thanks.

The yearbook staff has worked extremely hard and it has been great fun to have been associated with this splendidly talented group.

Finally, to the yearbook editor, Sharon Harvey, go my thanks for being a gifted leader and an inspiring guiding light. I give to Sharon my most enthusiastic applause for being simply "first class."

It is my hope that this edition of the Retrospect will become a treasured memento to you this school year. — Thomas Orr

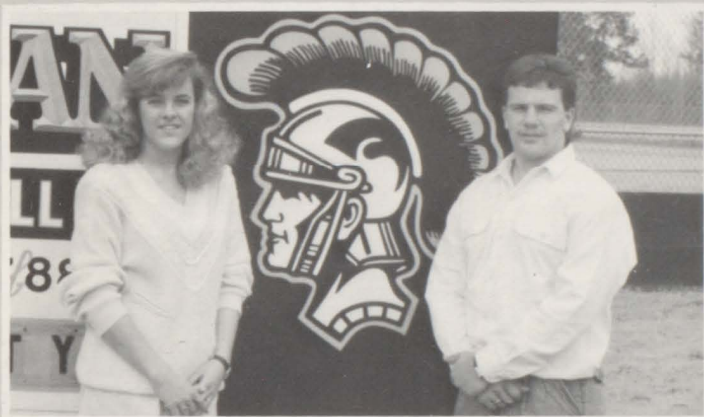

Senior Superlatives

Kelli Kennedy & Derrick Pinney Best All-Around

Kelli and Derrick were selected by the Senior class as the Best All-Around. Kelli plans to attend the University of Florida, but she has not decided upon a major. Derrick plans to attend Presbyterian College.

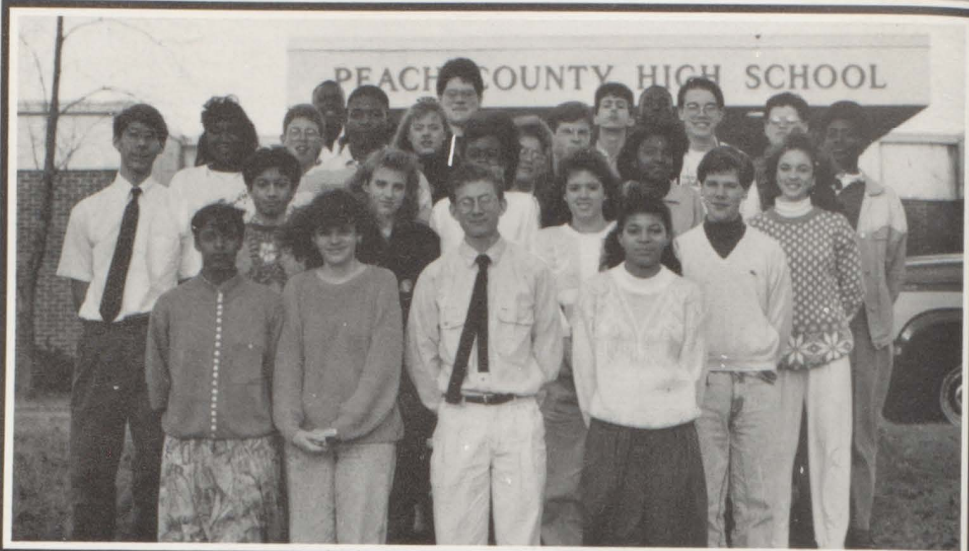

Jenni McLean & Jason Tucker Most School Spirit

The Senior Class chose Jenni and Jason to have the Most School Spirit. Jenni plans to attend the University of Georgia and study Pre-Med. Jason plans to go to Georgia Southern and major in Wildlife Management.

Literary Competition

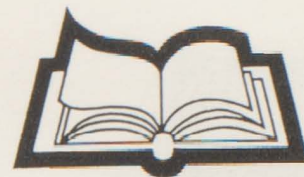

Literary competitors are: Mamar Gelaye, Lillian van Hartesveldt, Ben Butler, Laurie Dubriel, Chris Khoury, Sandip Patel, Jenni Simpson, Pam Greer, Jason Murtagh, Kristi Brewton, Woody Hill, Rene Washington, Daphne Walker, Christie Cochran, Walter Peavy, Jenny McLean, Andrea Hill, Darrell Hallman, Oenia Odums, Dahl Moss, Lawrence Allison, Neal David, Michael Edwards, Chris Rader, and Jason Rowland.

Cooking up something good. As home economics competitor, Elaine Fibbe took a test over her home economics knowledge and then gave a presentation she had prepared.

sees new faces . . .

Serious Singers! Kristi Brewton and Walter Peavy competed as soloists. They each sang two pieces; one contemporary and one traditional.

Making Sweet Music Together. Trio singers: Kristi Brewton, Jenny McLean, and Amy Truitt. The girls performed two selections; one unaccompanied and one with piano.

Barbershop quartet. Lamar Jones, Rob Tyson, Dahl Moss, and Walter Peavy performed in the boys' quartet category. The boys sang two selections.

The annual literary competition was a learning experience for many students. Most of them had never competed in a literary meet. The new head of literary, Mr. Dean Slusser, wrestled with all the old responsibilities of his new position. Old competitors like Sandip Patel and Jenny McLean had some idea of what competition would be like and offered helpful hints. Veteran sponsors Mr. Stephen Beatty, Mrs. Isabell Byas, Mrs. Betty Cleveland, Mrs. Claire Miller, Mr. William Moultrie, Mr. Thomas Orr, Miss Patricia Thomas, and Mr. E. Watford devoted much time and effort to ensure competitors' success. At the practice meet at Macon College, Pam Greer took first place in girls' typing. The Quiz Bowl team also won second place honors that day in their competition. Debaters won the region title.

Not pictured were extemporaneous speakers Michael Edwards, Daphne Walker, and their alternates Ricky Hamlin and Mamar Gelaye. They were given 45 minutes to write an essay on an assigned topic and deliver it as a speech.

Mr. Slusser said, "Literary competition was new to me. I really appreciated the other sponsors teaching me as they did their students. Many of the students were young; I think that if they continue to participate, we will develop a really competitive group."

"Break a leg!" One act play members Chris Rader, Lillian van Hartesveldt, Kate McCall, Shawn Parkerson, Jason Rowland, and Lawrence Allison said to each other as they performed 'Antigone.'

... but being the

Webster's Wonders.

Jenny Simpson, Neal David and alternates Daphne Walker, Ekanem Udoh were spelling competitors. The spellers took one hundred-word tests over unusually spelled words.

Arguing Both Sides of the Question. Debaters Ben Butler, Mamar Gelaye, and Woody Hill. Two debaters argued the positive side of a problem and two others argued the negative position.

Not pictured:
Michael Edwards

BEST is old hat!

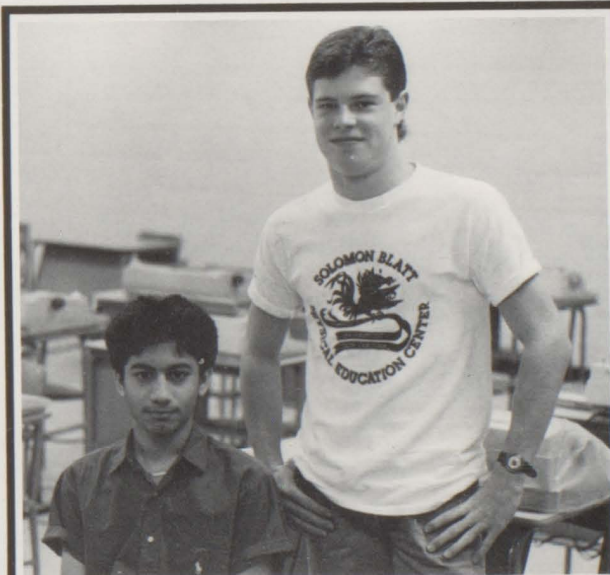

Story-tellers. Oenia Odums, Jason Murtagh, and alternate Angelle Shannon were oral interpretation competitors. They read or acted out a piece of literature.

Putting the Pencil to the Paper. Christie Cochran and Chris Rader competed in essay writing. They had two hours to write an essay on an assigned topic in current events or literature.

Tip-Top Typing. Pamela Greer and alternate Andrea Hill were girl's typists. They were given a page of writing to type and then judged for fastest time and fewest errors.

Typing Champions. Sandip Patel and alternate Darrell Hallman competed in boys typing. They were also judged for their speed and accuracy.

IONS DAPHNE

Our Wish For You Is . . .

Be All That You Are

You have been planted
here.

The world is yours to enjoy . . .
o expand . . .

to go wherever you want.

Life is the gift you have been given.

Love is the blessing
you can feel.

It is all around . . .
the flowers . . .

in the trees . . .

in the meadows . . .

on the mountain tops.

Give yourself a chance.

Give yourself some time to know who you are,
to become all that you already are.

Accept the gifts
of a new day.

Be a part of every person who says hello.

We are all just hearts . . .
alone and together beating . . .

to the music inside,
fulfilling our ambitions,
finding our places in the wonder of the universe.

More than to hope in yourself,
may you believe in yourself.

Take your own hand
on your own journey.

In the quiet you will hear the voice of wisdom.

In the stillness
you will realize
your deepest dreams.

And in your heart
you will know how deeply you are loved.

Dedication

Miss Eleanor Bell has taught at Peach County High School for over 50 years. Miss Bell is a symbol of tradition at PCHS. Not only has she taught numerous students, but also many of their parents. Her "Do What?" and "Go to the board!" are two of the most feared expressions in the school. They say "practice makes perfect" and Miss Bell made sure we had it perfect.

Miss Patsy Thomas has lent her expertise and ears to PCHS for many years. Under Miss Thomas' guidance, PCHS students have placed in music-oriented literary competition year after year.

It is with great pride that the 1989-90 Retrospect Staff dedicates the 1990 "It's About Time" to Miss Eleanor Bell and Miss Patsy Thomas. It's about time we showed our appreciation to two such deserving people.

Don't Give Up . . .

The End is in Sight!

Hour after hour of vigorous labor has many students believing the end will never come. But don't worry. Sooner or later the end always comes. Although the Freshmen may not believe this prediction, before long they too will be Seniors and will see the truth behind our statement.

far right: William Moultrie and Rob Tyson show us their pearlies.

Senior Superlatives

Elantrice Hughley & Rodney Howard Most Dependable

Elantrice and Rodney were chosen by the Senior Class as the Most Dependable. Elantrice plans to attend South Carolina State and major in Computer Science. Rodney plans to go into the jewelry trade and attend Macon College.

Julie Turner & Randy Pitts Best Looking

Julie and Randy were selected by the Seniors as the Best Looking. Julie plans to attend the University of Georgia in the fall and major in Advertising. Randy plans to go to Georgia Southern and study Business Management.

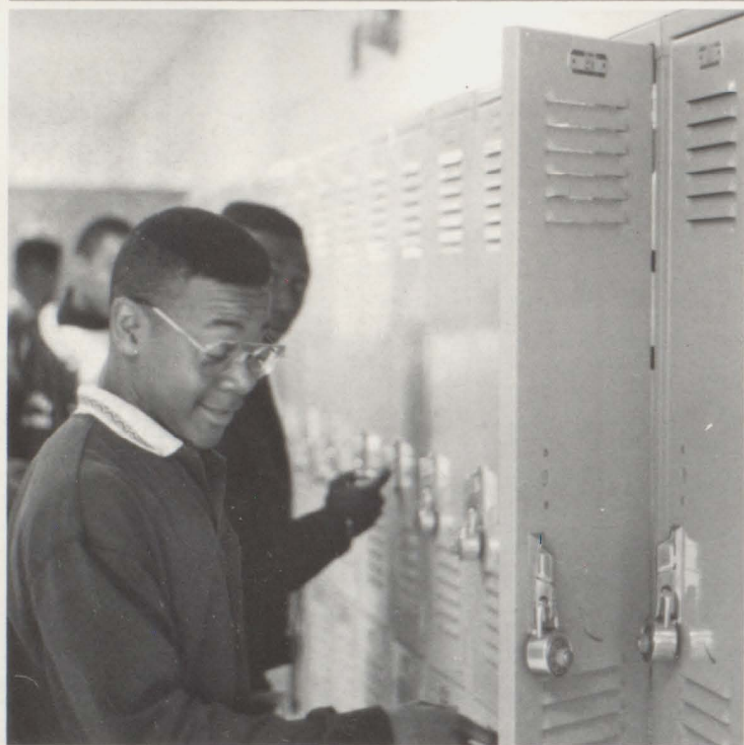

Topping It All Off

Running from class to class was a typical day. But in between running there was work to be done. The annual rush to finish History projects was on once again this year as students tried to complete a week's worth of work between midnight and 1:00 on January 2. Every class had assignments to complete. The fact that the dog ate your homework would not save you from a zero.

Along with the work was the constant struggle to talk to friends without being caught by the teacher (passing notes is the veteran's method of avoiding this). There was also the rush to the phone to call that special person, or try to talk mom into bringing you your homework. The only problem with the phones at PCHS is that they were in such demand that you could wait all lunch period and never get to use one. The simple solution to this was to beg a hall pass off your favorite teacher and go during class. But do not let Grover catch you!

Brian Smisson really "topped it off" with his project for Mrs. Duke's World History class.

top right: Jermain Schofill and Curtis Sanders send this week's work into oblivion. (Maybe that is what happened to our report cards!)

far right: Getting from building A to building B can often be a nerve-racking hassle!

Um uh! And just who are you talking to Gary?

Pump it up Jamal!

Chuck Haire and friends anxiously await the beginning of their next class. (And if you believe that, how would you like to buy the Golden Gate Bridge?)

A Final Note

Another year has gone to past.
Another year we thought would last
Has flown by like the cold North wind,
Has flown by never to be seen again.

We cannot stop the passage of years, and who wants to? Well, actually, maybe we do. After all the years we have spent at PCHS, and in the Peach County school system, we never really believed the day would come when we would say goodbye forever. But it did come, and we did go, not without a few tears. However, others have gone before us, and PCHS continued to thrive without them. So it must do without us. Maybe "It Is About Time" we left.

right: James Goodman takes a Senior privilege of napping.

far right: Kate McCall knows not to take chances with the school food.
